Grain Pendant Light by Muuto

The Muuto Grain pendant light is made of an innovative mixture of bamboo grain and plastic, the shade is crafted under high pressure casting and then manually assembled. Designed by Jens Fager, a graduate of Konstfack University in Stockholm, Grain is a simple and soft design that generously emits a warm downlight. Fager wanted to create a versatile lighting solution which has a warm and friendly appearance and the ability to gracefully spread onto the surface below.

The Muuto Grain Pendant is equipped with an LED G9 light bulb that can last up to 10.000 hours. While saving energy the LED with reflect a warm glow and natural light into the room. The pendants are charming on their own but you can choose to install more and create a cluster or linear arrangement, with the same or different colour Grains.

The Muuto Grain Pendant features a White Ceiling rose for all colours.
