Anglepoise Original 1227 Brass Maxi Pendant

The Anglepoise Original 1227 Brass Maxi Pendant features the instantly recognisable shade created by engineer George Carwardine. Since its release in 1935, the 1227 has become a classic British design icon. The 1227 Brass Maxi Pendant maintains the soft curves of the original shade while introducing brass detailing for an ornamental element. A woven fabric cable adds to the decorative aesthetic, making it a striking visual statement even when not in use.

When switched on, the Original 1227 Brass Maxi Pendant guides light downwards into a directed glow, perfect for illuminating work surfaces. Display above a kitchen island, dining table, or desk for functional task lighting. Install multiples above long surfaces to provide a uniform and comfortable glow. While a single Maxi Pendant adds an elegant touch to any décor, multiple pendants installed in clusters create a unique focal point that will leave a lasting impression.
