Patera by Louis Poulsen

With its calming aura of soft, glare free light, the Patera pendant is both decorative and functional in its appearance. It elegantly combines atmospheric diffused light and downward directed light. This is achieved through Patera's cleverly designed structure made up of small diamond shaped cells, each designed to capture light and shield the light source from viewing angles above 45 degrees. Below 45 degrees, light is directed downwards. A small amount of light is also directed upwards, illuminating the ceiling.

Inspired by the Fibonacci curve, the Patera pendant is beautiful from all angles, making it suitable for a variety of situations: hallways, staircases, above dining areas, from low or high ceilings. The Patera pendant light comes in two size options: 600cm and 450cm.

LED version also available. Contact us for more information and pricing.
