Artemide Miconos Suspension Light

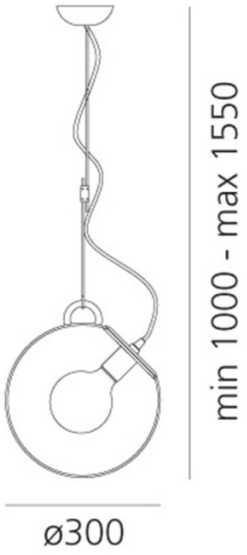

Artemide Miconos Suspension Light places the transparent diffuser and exposed light source at the centre of the design. Created by Ernesto Gismondi, it uses a functional and balanced frame composition to support the glass globe, giving the fitting its simple beauty and its status as an ever-stylish and topical icon.

The transparent blown plate-glass diffuser leaves the bulb fully in view, which gives the suspension a less enclosed feel. Light passes through the globe with both diffused and direct emission, while the frame holds everything in a clear, balanced arrangement.

Artemide Miconos Suspension Light is available in Satin brass and Polished chrome. In suspension form, the design takes on a stronger visual role in the room, though the clear glass stops it from feeling heavy. Best suited for dining tables, kitchen islands, bedrooms, and other interiors where a suspension light can provide illumination with a more visible focal point.
