SANTA & COLE

The warm, filtered light housed within the Maija series now with LED technology, in the new floor lamp version based on the original 1955 design.

In the language of Finnish functionalism, the Maija series conveyed the feeling of Baltic light from the inside outwards, with a graceful, durable structure reminiscent of the childish honeycomb of naughty honey bee Maya, the heroine of stories and cartoons that originally inspired its name. A fragmented opaque body made up of superimposed plates filters the light that dwells within.
