Muuto Fiber Armchair with Fabric Shell

The Fiber Armchair is part of the Fiber family, a collection by Copenhagen-based design duo Iskos-Berlin—a prestigious design team that have exhibited at many design museums worldwide, including MoMA and the Danish Design Museum.

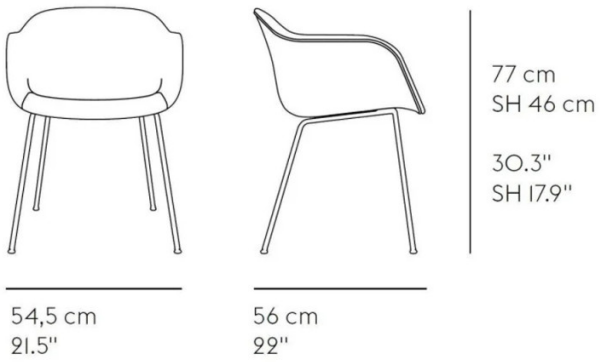

The armchair was developed to interpret the iconic shell chair and to bring maximum comfort within the home whilst also taking up little space due to its welcoming curvaceous design. Like the rest of the collection, the armchair has been produced from an innovative bio-composite material that includes 25% wood fibres. From a distance, the shell appears to be normal smooth plastic, however, when viewed up close the tiny pieces of the wooden fibres become apparent, giving the chair a whole new character.The chair also has maximum comfort as the inside is upholstered with foam and fabric.

Unlike the original Fiber Armchair, this chair has a textile upholstered finish, giving it a more subtle and subdued appearance that would work well in both home and work environments.
