Discovery Wall Light by Artemide

When Artemide's technological know-how and Ernesto Gismondi's ingenious designs meet, you get a light such as the Discovery wall light; an almost imperceptible and immaterial element. The light is almost invisible when not switched on. The aluminium rim hosts the LED strips which will fill the PMMA transparent surface uniformly with light.

The light translates innovation into a surprising solution. A wall light that only becomes perceptible when switched on, and a direct and indirect light is emitted. Discovery lights are a perfect choice for working environments and the range also includes the Discovery and Discovery Vertical suspension lights.
