Room F55 Outdoor Floor Lamp by Prandina

This alternative outdoor version of Prandina's iconic floor lamp shows that, despite its name, the Room floor lamp is equally effective when not in a room at all.

A collaboration between Prandina and hettler.tüllmann – which is itself a collaboration between designer Katja Hettler and architect Julia Tüllmann – the Room outdoor floor lamp appears to be somewhere between a seat and a traditional textile lamp-shade. In this case, appearances are not deceiving, as the floor lamp can be used both as seating, made more comfortable through the use of a separately available felt cover, and as lighting, producing a soft, fully-diffused light, perfect for creating an intimate atmosphere in a garden or by a pool, or for illuminating a path at night.

Combine several Room outdoor floor lights at once to provide an even spread of light over a larger space while emphasising the irregularity of their shape.
