Artemide Alfa Table Lamp

A 1959 design by Sergio Mazza, the Artemide Alfa Table Lamp adds an artistic yet classic touch to your interior. The translucent diffuser, crafted from glass, is encompassed by nickel-plated detail, and all altogether sit on top of a black marble base. The metal is hand turned, making it a unique light for your home, while the combination of high-quality materials ensures a sophisticated aesthetic. Alfa is defined by contrasts in shape, material and texture; the differing components combine to form a stylish lighting solution.

The Alfa Table Lamp emits a soft, diffused illumination and is a great addition to your office or desk, reading nook, bedside or coffee table. This lamp produces an inviting ambience and can be easily dimmed via a switch on the cable to further personalise the lighting output for your needs.
