Marset Theia M table lamp

This modern design was inspired and named after Theia the 'mother of the sun, the moon and the dawn'. This lamp was designed by Mathias Hahn who aimed for his design to honor the beauty of light and the fascination we have with it. The Theia Table Lamp uses both light and shadow to create a unique design and an innovative way of diffusing and directing light into a space. The shade has a fascinating feature that allows you to swivel the fixture around its central axis which adjusts the perspective of the light. with the opaque metal shade, you are able to create the perfect reading light or you could adjust the shade for ambient indirect light.

Available in two finishes, black and white, the Theia LED Table Lamp is a modern classic and would add a touch of monochrome style to any space. Perfect for a living room or bedroom, the Marset Theia plays with light beautifully. This lamp is also available as a Floor Lamp.
