Le Klint Caché Pendant Light

The Caché pendant is part of the Caché Collection, a range designed for Le Klint by Aurélien Barbry. The name ‘Caché’ is taken from the French word meaning ‘hidden’, which represents the hidden hand-pleated diffuser tucked in the bottom of the lampshade. The paper diffuser is synonymous with Le Klint. As well as adding a delicate touch to the pendant, the diffuser creates glare-free lighting that is functional and has a welcoming ambience.

The warm, downward glow emitted by the Caché is perfect for use as a task light over a kitchen island or dining room table. Install in multiples in a row to run the length of a long table. To create a larger display, the Caché pendant can be installed in multiples, alternating between the two sizes. The sleek profile blends seamlessly into contemporary spaces, both domestic and commercial, and is an ideal lighting solution in hotel lobbies and restaurants.
