LE KLINT

161 Pendant Light by Le Klint

The 161 pendant light was designed by Hvidt & Mølgaard in 1969 and was originally released under the Danish name Krystal. As the name suggests, the pendant takes its form from the shape of a diamond using a folded crystalline form to achieve its unmistakable shape.

With an enclosed shape, the 161 pendant has a warm diffused light that creates a comforting atmosphere. The minimal glare also means this pendant can be suspended at both high and low lights, letting you create your own unique use of space. This pendant will work best in lounging areas and can work in both commercial and home interiors as it can easily slip into any design scheme.
