Tom Dixon.

Tom Dixon Void Surface Light.

Tom Dixon's Void collection is inspired by the Olympic medals, made from precious materials. Produced in a similar way vacuum flasks are made, Void is made from pure metal formed into a complex double-walled shade. Void Surface Light can be used on walls and ceilings alike.

Void's minimal and stylish design works well in clusters for maximum design impact, or singularly to add a point of interest in your interior design. Tom Dixon Void surface light is ideal for living rooms, dining space or hallways as the design is versatile and adds a welcoming glow.
