Northern Diva Pendant

Designers Peter Natedal & Thomas Kalvatn Egset created the Diva Pendant to take centre stage in any interior. Much like the divas from which it gets its name, the Diva Pendant creates a focal point that draws the eye of those around it. The spiraling shape produces a display that appears different depending on the viewer's vantage point, creating different versions from a single design. The bent plywood diffuses light while casting a play of light and shadows on the shade.

Also included in the Diva Collection is the Diva Floor Lamp. Both floor lamp and pendant are available in laminated oak, a material chosen for its ability to be bent and twisted into sweeping, sculptural shapes whilst remaining durable and strong. Each lamp is handmade using 32 individual strips of wood and is made using the traditional tools and techniques of Norwegian wood craftsmanship. Display in the dining room to illuminate the table below, or in a living room to create a warm and inviting atmosphere while making its presence felt.
