Louis Poulsen Yuh LED Floor Lamp

The Artemide Yuh Floor Lamp was designed by GramFratesi, a duo of Architects, who were influenced by Arne Jacobsen and based their designs on Poul Henningsen's work. The Yuh lamp is inspired by the AJ collection, the geometry, lines and angles of it make it a functional modern sculptural. The name of this Louis Poulsen lamp comes from the phonetic sound you make when pronouncing "you"; it's a lamp entirely made to be about you.

A personal floor lamp which is functional, taking up minimal space. The designers worked hard to design a light that can be moved in every way along its axis, rotate, incline or move up and down. The diffuser emits a direct downlight, glare-free, but a slim opening at the top allows for some light to escape and provide a warm ambience around it. The Yuh floor lamp is available in an all-black or all-white colour, as well as in a black/brass or white/brass finish with a matching marble base. The switch and dimmer is located at the top of the stem and functions also as a timer to automatically turn off the light at 0hrs/4hrs/8hrs.
