Foscarini Rituals Ceiling Light

The Foscarini Rituals Ceiling Light is a combination of east and west, memory and modernity, poetic inspiration and technological research. It boasts a distinct shape crafted from blown satin glass that gently diffuses the inner light source. The special glass-working method, with irregular lines that mark the surface, was created by the industrialisation of the artisan process of grinding. The result is a delicate, fascinating decoration that can accommodate a range of interiors in both residential and commercial settings.

The Rituals Ceiling Light is available in three shapes, all of which harness the elegant white finish and detailed shade. These lights can be displayed individually or alongside other luminaires in the collection. The Fosarini Rituals range also includes pendants, table lamps and wall lights.
