Slamp Charlotte Floor Lamp

The Slamp Charlotte Floor Lamp is a modern and elegant design, curated by Doriana and Massimiliano Fuksas. The body is composed of layers of white Cristalflex®, a plastic based material patented by Slamp, with concentric hexagonal openings. Charlotte floor lamp is a handmade product that is manufactured according to Slamp's high standards of quality.

Charlotte seems to be modelled in a single block with impalpable features, like those of a beehive, through which the light passes through. These hexagonal openings allow the light to fall into the room and be intensified by the pattern. Even when looking through the narrow, cylindrical floor lamp, the viewer finds no definable background, creating the illusion of infinity. In addition, the pattern of the luminaire also changes with the angle of view. The Floor Lamp has a honeycomb design that stands out for its two-dimensional shapes and its reflective interior that emphasises the light emitted and reflects the concentric design.
