Foscarini Allegro Ritmico LED Pendant Light

The Allegro Ritmico LED pendant is an intriguing and captivating light constructed by aluminium rods, manipulated to create a unique shape. The special character of the lampshade is matched by its functionality as it is fitted with two integrated LED light sources to produce both upward and downward-directed light. The upper light casts a glow which creates ambience, whereas the downward light is wonderful to use as a spotlight which can be used to put over tables and surfaces or as a feature light to illuminate the whole room.

The size of the Allegro Ritmico LED pendant light makes it wonderful for bigger spaces and for high ceilings, suitable for dining areas, reception areas and many more in commercial and domestic settings. This pendant can be used alone, in rows or in clusters either using multiple of this pendant light or with others from the Foscarini Allegro collection.
