Audo Copenhagen Dancing Pendant

The Audo Copenhagen Dancing Pendant resembles a dancer with a skirt twirling, creating wonderful waves and a motion that is mesmerising and hypnotic. This luminaire was designed by Iskos-Berlin, a design partnership that seeks to tell stories through design, whilst also experimenting with new materials and sustainability. The Dancing pendant embodies all of these aims as the shade is made using innovative PET felt, which is 100% recyclable and mainly made from used plastic bottles, and shows a clear story with a striking silhouette.

The Dancing Pendant Light allows you to choose between two beautiful sizes, medium or large, making it perfect for use as a smaller ambient light and also as a wider luminaire used over tables and surfaces. The off-white finish allows it to slip into any interior, and the stunning curved lines create a gorgeous aesthetic in the room. Use in a wide variety of settings for a stylish and effective lighting solution.
