HAY Fifty-Fifty LED Floor Lamp

The HAY Fifty-Fifty LED Floor Lamp was designed by British designer Sam Weller who uses his knowledge of engineering and industrial design to create highly functional and timeless products. The HAY Fifty-Fifty LED Floor Lamp takes its name from the lamp's counterweight system that creates equilibrium between the two parts. Based on the idea of stripping a multi-purpose task light to its fundamental elements, the fifty-fifty balances refined, pared-back aesthetics with optimal functionality. Allowing you to move and adjust the lamp with great ease. The extruded cantilever arm is easy to tilt and pivot, with a wide range of mobility, this floor lamp can direct light in any direction around the room.

Another feature that makes this floor lamp easy to manipulate is the touch-sensitive dimmer switch for precisely positioning and controlling the light source. Due to this floor lamp's high functionality, it would be the perfect addition to any office or work space or could even add an industrial feel to any interior as it is available in a soft black finish.
