Marset Djembe LED Pendant Light

The Marset Djembe LED Pendant Light was created by Joan Gaspar after he was inspired by the form and power behind musical drums. This inspiration has resulted in the bell-shaped structure that envelops the integrated LED light source. This iconic shade has a unique texture that appears stone-like on the exterior of the shade. This contrasts the smooth satin white interior that reflects the bright downward light into the space with ease and also produces a large amount of indirect light perfect for large spaces.

The stone-like exterior is available in four finishes: red, grey, white, and sky blue. All of which highlight the uniquely textured exterior of the shade that gives the design the perception of great weight and volume. This volume has also inspired artists such as Jose Berrio to create illustrations that depict the vibrations of African drums, which is what the light is named after. His illustrations represent the indirect light filling the large space that somehow also feels cozy.
