The Party Wall Lights by Moooi

Kranen/Gille, fascinated by family dynamics and intrigue designed The Party wall lights. The lights are comprised by a clan of mischievous and strong personalities that when together they form a party that brightens up any space with their playful characters. But behind this faced is where their misbehaving personality lies. Each one of the participants to the Party have their own personal story, each tying them to one another. There is the wannabe royal, the patriot, the opportunist, the black sheep and the evil mastermind. It is exactly these characters that every one of us will be able to relate to some level.

To better introduce you to the party, first we have Bert; the darkest member of the group, greedy and jealous. Then we have a prestigious member of the Party, the Mayor who thinks a lot of himself and sees the world through his monocle, a controversial personality. The only lady in the Party, Coco, that knows to care of herself, independent and smart; the conventional mother, lover and woman. Then we have the patriotic soul of the Party, Glenn, a man with mission, search for clarity through idealogy and order. And last but not least, the evil mastermind that could not miss the Party, Ted, who went down the wrong path in his youth and whose face is the only one with no identifiable traits.

All Party wall lights have a basic tactile feel, with a certain rough feel to them due to the ceramic finish. Each one has its own distinctive trait, to separate them from one another; all but Ted. With an integrated LED source, The Party is energy efficient and dimmable, allowing you to tailor the brightness of the light. You can have one, two or all 5 personalities in your home or business, and bring The Party to you.
