New Works Hang On Honey Pendant

We currently have limited stock of one of these items in our Clearance section.

Designed by Niels Bak Rasmussen in 2005, the New Works Hang On Honey Pendant combines industrial style with minimalist characteristics. Rasmussen's designs are not just functional but also aim to produce a device that both illuminates and ignites a spark within.

This pendant light consists of a simple bell-shaped shade, featuring three silicone buttons that fix the shade directly onto the bulb, granting you the ability to change the lampshade quickly. Hang On Honey provides a sophisticated silhouette and projects the light source downwards. The result is a soft down-light that is perfect for placement above dining tables, kitchen islands and countertops. Hang on Honey can be displayed individually or as part of a cluster for larger spaces.
