Warm Nordic Silhouette Floor Lamp

The Silhouette Floor Lamp was designed by Svend Aage Holm-Sørensen in the 1950s. Holm-Sørensen was a licensed ornamental worker, and his knowledge of working with metals was often showcased in his designs. The Sihouette is a beautiful example of this, with a profile that features long, clean lines, as well as intricate brass detailing. The result is a stunning display of asymmetry and light in a design that, despite its long history, blends seamlessly into contemporary interiors.

The large metallic shade at the top of The Silhouette Floor Lamp reflects light from below. This creates a diffused, glare-free light. The warm, atmospheric lighting is perfect for living rooms and bedrooms, while the stylish design fits in perfectly with modern decors in commercial spaces. The Silhouette Floor Lamp can be paired with The Silhouette Table Lamp to create a striking display that celebrates the history of Nordic lighting.
