PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Marc Sadler

Accordeon LED Suspension Light

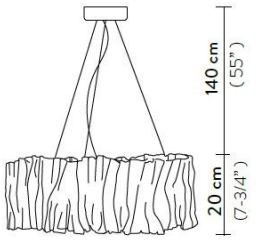

The Slamp Accordeon Suspension light is the result of Marc Sadler's experiments with techno polymers. The end product resembles the underside of an accordeon, providing inspiration for the name. A fine example of how art, design and lighting can be combined, this product does not sacrifice functionality for style - offering a full 360 light projection. The Accordeon ensures an even, warm cast of light around whichever room you decide to display it in.

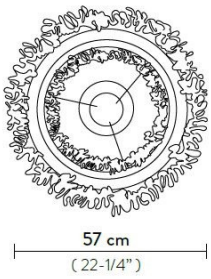

Hang in your living room, hall or even kitchen to add an enchanting and special touch. The Accordeon makes an especially large impact hung above a dining table or in areas where you host. The colours and detailed design generate a luxurious and elegant feel. It is certain to be a conversation starter.

The LED crown is available in either 3000K (Warm White) or 2700K (Warmest White), meaning you can personalise the warmth of your light depending on the function in needs to serve.
