Hanami Suspension Light by Slamp

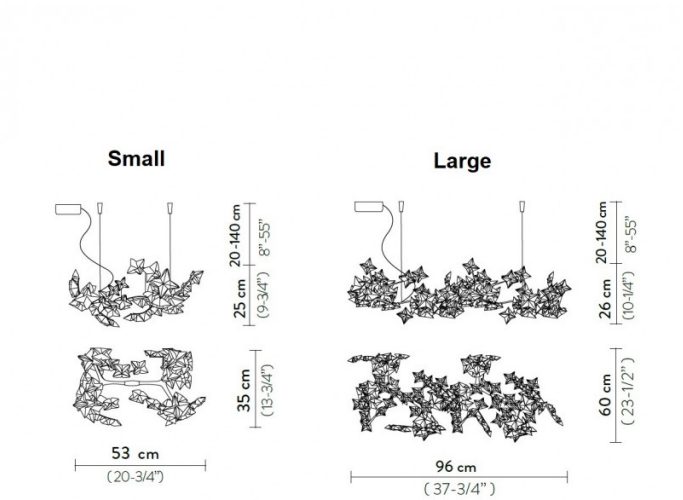

Inspired by the Japanese ritual where people would observe the cherry trees blossom, the Hanami Suspension Light is made from Lentiflex®, Slamp's own patented material. Hamani literally means, “to admire flowers”, and is a symbol of the beauty of living; it is delicate and poetic without abandoning LED component technology.

50 flowers, made of Lentiflex®, an unbreakable material whose luxurious transparency mimics that of a diamond, have been folded by hand to make a luxurious, versatile and subtly coloured bouquet, spread over a painted steel and polycarbonate structure. The addition of these handmade flowers adds a reflective property to the Hanami, creating an elegant and magnificent suspension. This luminaire creates a sparkling effect that has an effective and far-reaching illumination.

The lamp can be used in both private living spaces and in public environments, such as a hotel, restaurant or galleries and museums as a light source and at the same time eye-catcher.
