Artemide nh Wall Light

Neri&Hu, in collaboration with Artemide, have been studying the interaction between details, materials, expertise and form from which the nh lights were born. A modern take to the Chinese lanterns, as the designers continue to pay tribute to the Oriental culture. The nh wall light has a glass blown diffuser, sitting onto a brass ring and hang from a brass handle. You can hang the light on the wall or use the frame as support, allowing you to utilise the light as you wish. The nh wall lamp also comes with a cable and plug so needs to be installed near a socket.

The nh lights represent the designers' Neri & Hu, constant contemporary approach to more traditional tradition. As conveyed by the low consumption LED light source and choice of materials the design further supports sustainability. Nh collection includes a table lamp, suspension lights and a larger cluster suspension.
