&Tradition Setago JH27 Portable Lamp

The Setago JH27 is a quirky and colourful table lamp that focuses on the importance of small details. Designer Jaime Hayon, named one of Wallpaper* Magazine's top 100 designers, was inspired by the artistry of Japanese lantern-making, combining a classical approach to craftsmanship with modern technology. The result is a clean, uncluttered design, defined by its diminutive proportions. The name for the Setago comes from the Spanish 'Seta', meaning mushroom, which echoes the lamp's mushroom-like silhouette.

The Setago JH27 offers a small, easily portable design. Its IP44 rating allows it to be used in both indoor and outdoor locations, as well as in bathrooms and wet rooms. When switched on, the opal-coloured diffuser softens light into a warm glow that surrounds the lamp. A three-step dimmer allows users to change light intensity to suit any mood. Charge via the included USB-A charging cable for up to 10 hours of light, depending on brightness. The three available colour options add a splash of colour and a bold personality to any setting. Display in a reading nook, at a bedside, or on a picnic table for comfortable lighting that creates a cosy ambience.
