Projecteur 165 Pendant by Nemo Lighting

A part of the Projecteur collection for Nemo Lighting, the 165 Pendant design was made by Le Corbusier. Also available as a clip, wall and ceiling light, this pendant is a smaller version of the 365 design that was designed in 1954. With an adjustable shade, the pendant works wonderfully as a directional spotlight and works particularly well over tables. Its opal diffuser creates a pleasant glow with minimal glare and the three available colours, white sand, night blue and moka means the light subtly fits in with the rest of your interior. The light also can be dimmable if using a dimmable light bulb meaning you can create the right sort of atmosphere for your room.

To create dynamic lighting, buy several to cluster together and also try pairing the 165 pendant with the rest of the 165 and/or 365 range to have a consistent lighting scheme inspired by the icon Le Cobusier.
