Random II Light by Mooui

The Random Lights are part of the Mooui Originals collection since 2001. This design has become iconic and loved by many. The Randoms are unique due to the way they are made and never completely round. Transparency and delicacy is their greatest attributes. After Bertjan Pot graduated from the Design Academy in Eindhoven, he started experimenting with the remains of his graduation project. It was then that he created the Random pendant which impressed Mooui founder, Marcel Wanders. This is the first design by Bertjan for Mooui, and although he envisioned it as an interior object, it developed into an iconic suspension.

Now, almost two decades later, the Random Light is still as relevant and quintessential as then. Mooui has committed to improve all of their Mooui Originals in honour of all the great designs in their collection. Collaborating with Bertjan, Mooui has updated the Random Lights and delivered a high quality, upgraded user-experience and keeping Berthan's design as a key focus. The result....Random Light II.

As before, the Random Light II is available in a large, medium or small size and you can choose between a black or white colour. The pendant comes with matching ceiling rose, black for the black version and white for the white. The round disk is in a fixed position on the shade, and branded with Mooi's logo and the name of the designer.
