Tank by Diesel with Foscarini

Brand new and boxed in damaged original packaging.

The inspiration of the lamp comes from the water towers, the giant water tanks that are a symbol of the landscape of the Tribeca district in New York City. The shade of the lamp is made of a particular printed fabric that imitates the effect of metal rusted by time. Born from the passion of the Diesel team it changes with light: when the lamp is off it is a metallic totem with a great presence, while when on it lights up becoming warm and evocative and changing the perception of the diffuser. The diffuser is supported by a three-legged structure made of rods that complete the industrial effect.
