Jefferson Pendant Light by Lodes

Designed in 2019 by Nichetto Studio, the Lodes Jefferson pendant takes influence from 1960s psychedelic artwork. Producing a pendant light that has whirled glass lampshade, the inspiration is clear, as the spherical, ridged pendants embody the swirling patterns often seen in psychedelic art. The diffuser is made from bohemian crystal, whilst the inside structure is made from metal, producing a glare-free light that reflects around the diffuser, creating a bright illumination.

The Jefferson pendant light is available in 2 colours, with the choice of either a black chrome or gold metal structure and comes in 2 sizes, which each have their own unique character whilst sharing the same design aesthetic. The pendants can be used in many spaces and with a built-in LED dimmable light you can create the exact atmosphere you want. Use a singular light to have a decorative yet effective light for a warm environment or cluster many together in the different sizes to create a far-reaching feature light that can illuminate the whole room.
