Blow Table Lamp by Lodes

The Blow table lamp was designed by brothers Pio and Tito Toso in 2005. An innovative and interesting lamp, the Blow table light is composed of a small metal table lamp covered with a blown glass diffuser. The lamp can be adjusted with the handy magnet on the outside of the glass, being able to point the LED light wherever you need. The bulb has a 2700K (warmest white) temperature meaning you will get a nice soft glow.

The glass diffuser makes the light reflect producing a light that is both directed and illuminating. This table lamp is perfect as a task or reading light and also to create ambience in lounge areas, offices or bedrooms. The unique design and whimsical character make it a stand-out piece and will fit into any design scheme.
