Warm Nordic Fringe Table Lamp

Designed in 1960 by Hans-Agne Jakobsson, The Fringe Table Lamp is a sophisticated and chic light that is now iconic. Jakobsson is best remembered for his use of utilising unique materials in his work. The Fringe Collection is an excellent example of this play with materials. The shade is formed from a beautiful fringe, which is available in either cream-white or pale rose, and a structure made from brass-plated steel. The fringed lampshade conceals the light source, creating a warming glow that is cosy and inviting.

The vintage design of this table light makes it suitable for many settings, whether used in the home or in professional spaces, to provide a timeless look and a soft lighting solution. The Fringe table light can be used to add ambient lighting to spaces within the home such as a bedside table, windowsill, or in a reading nook. The classic aesthetic and stunning pairing of brass and fringe make this lamp a wonderful choice for any interior.
