KDLN Kushi XL Table Lamp

Designed by Alberto Saggia and Valerio Sommella, the KDLN Kushi XL Table Lamp offers a larger interpretation of the elegant Kushi design. Named after the Japanese word for skewer, the lamp features a metal rod that appears to pierce the softly rounded opal glass diffuser. When illuminated, the opal glass diffuser casts a warm glow. The metal rod, available in black, copper, or brass, adds a distinct decorative accent.

With its generous proportions and understated silhouette, the Kushi XL Table Lamp brings a sophisticated sculptural presence to living rooms, studies, and bedrooms. The dimmable light source allows users to adjust the ambience to suit any mood, alternating between soft atmospheric lighting and a brighter, more practical glow. Whether used as a standalone statement piece or paired with other designs from the Collection, the Kushi XL Table Lamp adds warmth, balance, and contemporary elegance to any interior.
