Flos Chiara Table Lamp

The Chiara Table Lamp was originally designed in 1969 by Mario Bellini and is enjoying a revival with a 2020 re-edition by Flos. The table lamp is made from one sheet of stainless steel, which is rolled into a cylinder with an intriguing hat-like lampshade that has a coloured edge. The result is a unique silhouette, whilst the concealed light source is projected up the base and reflected off the shade. Chiara creates a diffused and effective glow that can be used in a variety of environments, for both residential and commercial settings.

The Flos Chiara Table Lamp is available in an aluminium finish with an anthracite edge, making it perfect for contemporary spaces. The table light will add a modern and chic touch to your interior, being a timeless piece of designer history and having a modern aesthetic. Use the Flos Chiara in many settings on tables, desks, side tables and more as a handy ambient light.
