Foscarini Nuée LED Pendant

Designed by Marc Sadler, the Foscarini Nuée Pendant Light is an impactful and stunning luminaire that is primarily made from three-dimensional fabric. The design appears strong yet ethereal, with a lightweight look and a striking profile that will draw the eye within any room. The white finish of the pendant lamp means it can suit any type of design scheme and will be a statement piece in your interior for both classic and contemporary styles.

The Nuée Pendant features a concealed integrated LED light source for a soft and long-lasting glow and will work well as a main light in the space because of its larger size. Providing ambient illumination and a beautiful decorative perspective, this pendant light is truly forward-thinking and innovative. A beautiful way to brighten up living rooms, kitchens and dining areas.
