Chipperfield w102 LED Floor Lamp by Wastberg

The Chipperfield LED floor lamp was designed by David Chipperfield, an accomplished modern designer who has lectured and taught architecture worldwide. This floor lamp is a simplistic and chic light that has a functional and decorative role. The sleek metal body, arm and shade provide a minimalist look and the lampshade can also be directed so you can point the light flow to exactly where you need.

The Chipperfield floor light is available in 2 finishes, dark steel and brass/dark steel, with both colour options being a sophisticated and subtle choice for any interior. The contemporary aesthetic and useful mobility make this floor light perfect for reading, tasks and ambience and is best used in lounges, bedrooms and offices. Complete with an integrated LED light source for effective lighting and a dimmer switch to set the right mood in your interior.
