Artemide Tolomeo Table Lamp

Artemide Tolomeo Table Lamp is the table version of the design that has defined Tolomeo since 1987, bringing together functionality and aesthetics in a form that remains immediately recognisable. Designed by Michele De Lucchi and Giancarlo Fassina, it uses clean, minimalist lines and an aluminium structure that gives the lamp both lightness and robustness.

The head is adjustable in all directions and fitted with a stamped aluminium reflector for uniform light distribution, while the articulated arm system uses an innovative spring mechanism so the lamp can be adjusted in height and tilt with precision. That combination is what makes Tolomeo work equally well as a desk lamp, a reading light, or a table lamp for more relaxed settings.

Artemide Tolomeo Table Lamp is available in Aluminium, Black, and White. Its scale gives it a more established presence than the Mini and Micro versions, but it keeps the same flexibility and clarity of movement that define the wider range. Best suited for desks, home workspaces, side tables, reading corners, and other interiors where an adjustable task light is needed with a more substantial format.
