Artemide Dalu Table Lamp

The Dalu Table Lamp was originally designed by Vico Magistretti in 1969, but since then, Artemide have launched a re-edition, a tribute to the classic design from the 60s. The Artemide Dalu Table Lamp is made from a single polycarbonate form with a curved shape, and is available in eight finishes, including black, white or a selection of vibrant colours, a true salute to the era. The choice of vivid colour options, including a new-for-2026 Ruby Red chosen in collaboration with Danese Milano, adds to the psychedelic and vintage feeling that the Dalu brings into your home.

Artemide Dalu produces a focused illumination that, thanks to the angle of the shade, is projected onto the surface below, making it an excellent option as a desk lamp or other task light. This functional design is a retro staple and is perfect for adding a subtle, unique touch to your home, no matter where it is displayed.
