Droplet Ceiling Light by Artemide

A design by Ross Lovegrove for Artemide, the Droplet depicts a moments frozen in time. A wavy aluminium surface that is illuminated by three steel pebble like elements. The design is similar to the ripples created when you throw pebbles into a water surface. Lovegrove's influence is clear, as he takes inspiration from the logic and intelligence found in nature, producing organic forms. Droplet is a stunning piece for your foyer or business. The light is also available in a mini version.
