Foscarini Le Soleil Pendant Light

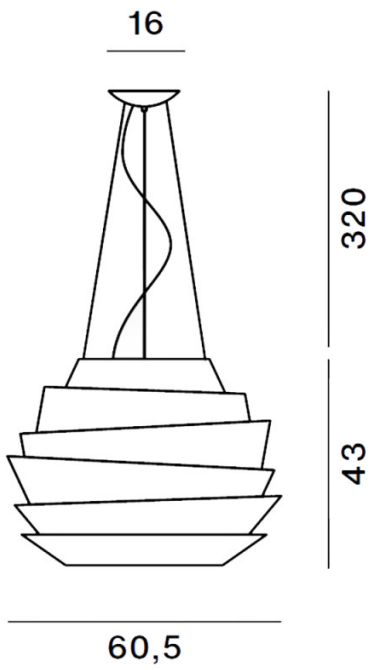

The Le Soleil Pendant Light was designed in 2009 by Vincente Garcia Jimenez. Made up of 6 asymmetric bands, the light escapes in bands as well as directly from the bottom, allowing for overall illumination in the room. Being a powerful and strong light, the pendant more than lives up to its name, which is the French translation of 'the sun.' The graphic design also catches the eye, being a stylish addition to many settings.

The Le Soleil pendant is available in a white finish and can be used in both big and small spaces, in homes and commercial interiors. You can use it in a small space to light up the room effectively or use it in multiple to create a stunning light decoration in a big space. Perfect for lounges, reception areas, bedrooms and more, this pendant light will look stunning and beautiful whilst maintaining functionality and versatility.

This light is also available as an LED version. Please click here for more details.
