The Zeppelin pendant light, created by designer Marcel Wanders, is a standout suspension providing diffused light. Wanders' design aesthetic, which combines bold innovation with a nod to vintage style, is evident in the Zeppelin pendant, taking a traditional candelabra shape and reinventing it into something compellingly new.

Constructed from a white powder-coated steel structure, the Zeppelin pendant lamp is then sprayed with the unique Flos white "Cocoon" resin, creating the astonishingly beautiful diffuser, which is then sprayed with a transparent protective coating. The pendant also has a faceted globe at the lower centre made from crystal lustre, which adds a whimsical sparkle to this cutting-edge design. This pendant light makes for a stunning lighting addition to restaurants, hotel lobbies and homes with high ceilings.
