Foscarini Lightweight Pendant Light

The Foscarini Lightweight Pendant is a stunning and showstopping lighting solution conceived by iconic British designer Tom Dixon. The frame is made from anodized metal, shaped and constructed to resemble the 3D development of a crystal - resulting in an industrial-style chandelier that is an attractive addition to contemporary interiors. The Foscarini Lightweight features 8 light sources that sit on the end of each arm, each encased by a hand-blown diffuser to create a soft glow.

The Lightweight Pendant is a modern and stylish chandelier, that looks grand and graphic in any space. Perfect for larger rooms and high ceilings, this pendant is wonderful for making a statement in a contemporary way. Walking the fine line between tradition and innovation, this chandelier light is made with high-quality craftsmanship that is unparalleled.
