A design by Ferruccio Laviani for Kartell, the Tati lamp with a rectangular shape and clean lines makes us reminisce something from the Art Deco style. Tati is characterised by a solid body made of transparent polycarbonate enveloping the diffuser, available in a white or soft pleated option. At the base, the Tati encloses a solid chrome weight.

The Tati brings a twist, despite the use of strict shapes and lines the famous table lamp is not a cold object. Rather, it holds a bourgeois allure mixed with contemporary lines. The Tati can create a game of different lights, as when it is switched on the light brightens its entire body and when off it reveals the true colour of its surface.

Light source included.
