Radon Floor Lamp by Fritz Hansen

The Radon floor lamp is part of the Fritz Hansen Radon collection, a lovely range of lights designed by Hans Sandgren Jakobsen in 2010. The floor lamp is defined by its semi-circular shade and triangular legs which makes the floor lamp stable and contemporary. The floor lamp has a shade which can be angled and directed making it perfect as a reading or task light.

The shade also has a reflector so the light spreads well, again wonderful for providing light where needed and also to provide ambience. Versatile and modern the Radon floor light looks great in both homes and commercial settings and is best used in lounges, dining rooms and offices.
