Verpan Fun 1DM Pendant

The Verpan Fun 1DM Pendant is part of the iconic Fun Collection , created by Verner Panton in 1964. Panton, known for his innovative and experimental use of textures and materials, introduced mother-of-pearl discs to the Fun range, utilising their natural beauty to create an elegant and sophisticated luminaire. When switched on, the discs conceal the light source for a glare-free glow, while reflecting light to create a shimmering effect. As wind moves through the shade, the pendant creates a soft chiming noise, combining light, movement, and sound.

Each seashell disc is suspended from stainless steel rings which are attached to a four-ring metal frame. The natural shell and reflective metal add to the Fun 1DM Pendant's ornamental aesthetic, making it a decorative feature even when not in use. Display above a dining table or in a living area to create an inviting and comfortable ambience, or, in larger spaces, install in clusters for a captivating yet refined display.
