Foscarini Double Wall Light

The simplistic Foscarini DoubleWall Light was designed by Valerio Bottin back in 1997 and still remains a staple of the brand. Both elegant and current, the wall light is made from hand-blown glass, beautifully diffusing the two light sources to produce a soft glow. The shade is characterised by a curved design that undulates in a fashionable and timeless way, with a white finish that can easily adapt to a range of modern and classic interiors.

The Double Wall Light subtly slips into any design scheme and interior. The light is both diffused and reflects off the wall and glass, so can be used in many settings, such as bedrooms, lounges and corridors. Add a touch of charm and sophistication to your home or commercial space.
