Dandelion Floor Lamp by Moooi

An expert in sustainable and playful designs, Richard Hutten designed the Dandelion light collection for Moooi. As one might guess, the lights were inspired by the dandelion flowers, known for the 'dandelion snow' when you blow on it. When switched on, the Dandelion emits this feeling of energy coming from the centre of the lamp, where the light source glows.

The Dandelion floor lamp emits a soft light in every direction, while the 'flower' like aluminium sheets create a playful game of shadows on its surroundings. The lamp is suitable for any interiors, whether for your personal dwelling, business or office, bringing a breath of fresh air. The collection also includes a suspension light. Both lights are available in a white finish.
