PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Ron Gilad

Dear Ingo by Moooi

A tribute to the 'poet of light', Ingo Maurer, the Dear Ingo Chandelier was designed by Ron Gilad for Moooi. His design has been such a success that the light is now housed at the Art Institute of Chicago. Gilad used to live just above Maurer's workshop in SoHo and it was inevitable for Gilad to not be affected by his work and passion.

Dear Ingo is comprised of 16 task lamps which are fully adjustable, creating an infinite choice of combinations, each more unique than the other. Gilad is known for creating eye-catching designs, and Dear Ingo sure is a conversation starter. Dear Ingo suspension is available in two colour options, white and black. This spider-like suspension light is suitable for large spaces and can be installed both in residential and commercial areas.
